

ETHAN KNOX

• writer • journalist • patient navigator
www.ethan-knox.com • Twitter: @knoxet17

ABOUT ME

I'm a published journalist with a flair for storytelling and a passion for providing a voice to all community members. Experience in patient navigation and communications, as well as academic and science journalism; extremely detail-oriented and deadline-driven. Hardworking, ambitious, and excited to break into new, diverse fields.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

EDUCATION

2017 - 2020 • Binghamton University -
BA English, concentration in Creative Writing and Global Studies

- Cumulative GPA: 3.9
- Dean's List for all semesters
- Coursework in Rhetoric, African American Studies; Women, Gender, and Sexuality; Literary criticism
- NYS Scholarship of Academic Excellence Recipient
- Staff Reporter of student newspaper, Pipe Dream
- English Department Undergraduate Essay Award - June 2019
- Portia Dunham Award in Fiction - July 2020

Binghamton University, Binghamton, NY – Internal Communications Specialist

August 2023 -
current

- Approved and edited daily campus announcements (timely and otherwise) delivered via email directly to faculty, staff, and students
- Maintained email subscriber lists for weekly campus announcements
- Wrote profiles and news stories to be published on the BingUNews website and for various campus publications; interviewed, researched, and reported on students, faculty, events, and research occurring around campus
- Worked with communication managers and magazine editors to upload and edit posts using ExpressionEngine

Southern Tier AIDS Program, 206 State Street, Binghamton, NY – HCV Navigation Coordinator and PrEP Program Manager

June 2021 -
August 2023

- Maintained PrEP Program social media accounts to garner engagement, establish clientele
- Responsible for creating, implementing, and sharing a variety of inter-agency developmental resources and community knowledge materials, such as pamphlets and newsletters
- Created, established testing manual, proper training for agency use to maintain consistent, efficient, and proper standard of practice
- Enrolled, and facilitated treatment for participants across several offices within the Southern Tier; tested for blood-borne pathogens, including Hepatitis C (HCV) and HIV; connected with schools, public health organizations within the region to bolster engagement

The Research Foundation, Binghamton University, NY – Freelance Journalist

June 2019 -
January
2020

- Wrote profiles to be published on the Discover-e website; interviewed, researched, and reported on students and faculty around campus
- Adapted scientific content to appeal and inform Binghamton community members of cutting-edge research in diverse fields such as ecology, immigration and psychology

NLGJA CONNECT Student Training Project, New Orleans, LA - Participant

August
2019 -
September
2019

- Participant in the Association of LGBTQ Journalists yearly conference; networked, reported and workshopped among upwards of 450 colleagues
- One of eleven students chosen nationwide to train under mentors from well-respected news outlets such as The New York Times

Harpur Perspective Internship, Binghamton University, NY - Student Reporter

September
2019 -
December
2019

- Interviewed subjects to write profiles and common interest stories in prompt manner; worked with a small team of other students to produce high-quality work for publication; fostered direct relationship with editor to generate strongest possible works for publishing on BingUNews website

SKILLS

Creativity

Adaptability

Photography

Communication Skills

MS Office

Time Management

